Secretary.

During the year 1909-1910, all the business of the Council of the Society has been transacted by letter. Among important matters decided by the Council are the appointment by the President of a Committee to discuss Dr. Isaac W. Brewer's recommendation that a School of Tropical Medicine be established, and a letter sent to Mr. Rockefeller after the announcement of his establishment of the Hook-worm Commission.

The committee on the foundation of the School of Tropical Medicine is composed of Dr. Wm. C. Gorgas, of Ancon; Dr. Wm. H. Welch, of Baltimore; Dr. Rudolph Matas, of New Orleans; Dr. Alexander Lambert, of New York; and Dr. Thomas H. Fenton, of Philadelphia. Two circular letters have been sent to this committee, the first one announcing its appointment and the second one outlining a plan for the foundation of School of Tropical Medicine in Philadelphia. Answers to the first letter have been received from Dr. Welch and Dr. Matas, outlining a general plan, but making no specific recommendations.

The letter to Mr. Rockefeller was as follows:

"John D. Rockefeller, Esq.,
New York City,
Dear Sir:

I am directed by the Council of the American Society of Tropical Medicine to express to you the appreciation of the Society for your very generous gift to the cause of American preventive medicine in the establishment of the Hook worm Commission.

The discovery of the relation between certain forms of anemia and the intestinal parasite known as Necator americanus is of great credit to American scientific physicians. The economic value to the country in a systematic attempt to prevent future infections will be very great, and the benefit to be derived by the individual in improved mental and physical health, power of production and enjoyment of life will be incalculable.

This Society stands ready to give all the help it can in the conduct of the work."

During the year the Secretary was offered the position of Medical Director of The Glen Springs, at Watkins, N.Y., and upon accepting the position a letter was sent to each member of the Council requesting an opinion as to whether he should not be a candidate for re-election, or 1.

During the year that has passed since the last annual meeting of the American Society of Tropical Medicine the bulk of the work of the Society has been performed by the Secretary by correspondence.

The Council met in Baltimore on April 22, 1911 at the invitation of the President, Dr. Thayer, Dr. Guiteras, Dr. McFarland, Dr. Fletcher and the Secretary attended the meeting, at which several important matters were decided upon.

It was voted that the Council recommended that the Society hold its ninth annual meeting in 1912, on the day before the meeting of the American Medical Association and in the same city, and that the Council meet the night before the meeting of the Society.

It was voted that in future all candidates for active membership in the Society must submit to the Council a list of papers written on subjects bearing upon Tropical Medicine, furnishing reprints whenever possible, and that the proposer should send letters to the Council setting forth the qualifications of the candidate that they recommended.

The Council nominated the following officers to be voted upon at this meeting.

Secretary's Report
Resolution on the death of Robert
Koch

Dr. John M. Swan read the Secretary's report.

Dr. James Birney Gutterie moved the following:

Resolved: That as The American Society of Tropical Medicine, at its meeting held in New Orleans on May 18 and 19, 1911, has heard the announcement of the death of one of its most illustrious Honorary Members, His Excellency, Robert Koch, of Berlin, this Society do place on record its sense of great loss to scientific medicine, which results from the cessation of the activities of this master in these fields of inquiry.

Resolved: That the Secretary be directed to spread this action on the minutes of the Society.

At the time of the last annual meeting the Secretary referred to his retirement from active work in Tropical Medicine and volunteered to retire from his office. The Council thought it best that he remain the Secretary, and the Council took this view of the matter again this year. Last year the Society gave the Council the power to appoint an Assistant Secretary and Dr. Allen J. Smith, Director of the Courses of Tropical Medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, was appointed to ~~be assistant Secretary~~ ^{that office}. In January of this year the property of the society was moved from the Secretary's former office in the Philadelphia Polyclinic to the Assistant Secretary's office in the University of Pennsylvania.

The Council recommended that the President appoint a committee of three at this meeting to report upon the available measures for the prophylaxis of plague in the United States at the 1912 meeting. The Council referred the action on the propositions for membership received since the last annual meeting to the President and the Secretary with power to act. The Secretary sent letters to those who proposed candidates requesting information about their work in Tropical Medicine. The President and the Secretary therefore recommended the election to active membership of the following candidates.

Dr. Sidney K. Simon, New Orleans.

Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, Boston.

Dr. John D. Long, United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service

New Orleans. The motion was duly seconded and carried.

of Robert

Dr. John M. Swan read the Secretary's report.

Dr. James Birney Guthrie moved the following:

Resolved: That as The American Society of Tropical Medicine, at its meeting held in New Orleans on May 18 and 19, 1911, has heard the announcement of the death of one of its most illustrious Honorary Members, His Excellency, Robert Koch, of Berlin, this Society do place on record its sense of great loss to scientific medicine, which results from the cessation of the activities of this master in these fields of inquiry.

Resolved: That the Secretary be directed to spread this action on the minutes of the Society.

The committee appointed in 1909 to consider the advisability of founding a School of Tropical Medicine in the United States has made no report to the Council.

The fifth volume^ε of Transactions has been unavoidably delayed but will soon be in the hands of the members. Members are reminded that in order to facilitate^t the publication of the Transactions the papers would better be sent to the Secretary with the Author's preference as to the journal in which they should be published so that the reprints may be ordered in proper form.

The collection of lantern slides was increased by the gift of a series of slides, illustrating Pellagra by Dr. C. C. Bass at the last annual meeting.

LIBRARY: Last year the library consisted of 22 bound volumes and 1106 pamphlets and ~~1~~ numbers of Medical periodicals. During the year 3 bound volumes and 311 pamphlets and medical periodicals have been added, making the library now contain 25 bound volumes and 1417 pamphlets and medical journals.

MEMBERSHIP: In 1910 the membership in the Society was as follows-- Active members 131; corresponding members, 17; honorary members 42. During the year one honorary member died, ^{His Excellency Scheinerath} ~~Professor~~ Robert Koch, and one honorary member has resigned and applied for active membership, Dr. Milton J. Rosenau.

At the St. Louis meeting it was voted that any active member who was five years in arrears of dues be dropped from membership after he was notified of the action of the Society and the amount in which he was in arrears. In accord with this resolution, seven active members have been dropped. Four active members have resigned. The membership on May 18th is 120 active, 17 corresponding 40 honorary.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF TROPICAL MEDICINE.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
JOHN M. SWAN, M. D.

WATKINS, N. Y., U. S. A.,

The past year has been a most valuable one in the history of The American Society of Tropical Medicine. The very successful meeting, which was held in New Orleans for two days in May, 1911 will long be an epoch in the annals of the Society. The Society's program was notable, and the Social features provided by the members of the Society resident in New Orleans and the members of the medical profession in New Orleans will long be a source of pleasant recollection to those members who attended the meeting.

Early in 1912 the Secretary was notified that the Society had been admitted to affiliation with the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, and the Council elected Dr. James M. Anders, one of our former presidents, a member of the executive committee of the Congress. As a consequence of this affiliation the Society will meet in Washington in 1912, during the meeting of the Congress.

The committee appointed by the President to report upon the Available Measures for the Prophylaxis of the Plague in the United States has not been able to furnish a report at this meeting as was originally intended. It is hoped that such a report will be forthcoming at the next meeting.

The sixth volume of the transactions will soon be in the hands of the members, and the fifth volume, ^{was} issued just after the last annual meeting. The coming volume will be smaller than those formerly issued on account of the fact that some of the papers read at New Orleans have not yet been published. This is a subject that your Secretary would like to call your attention to in order to urge you to furnish your manuscript for publication at the meeting at which it is read.
